ONE HUNDRED-DAY MEN.

Early in the spring of 1864 the government of the Northwestern States, namely: Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, believing that the rebellion was nearing its close, and desiring to aid the Government in every way possible, tendered to the President a volunteer force of 85,000 one hundred-day men, to relieve the veteran soldiers from guard duty at our forts, arsenals and elsewhere. Of this number Illinois furnished thirteen regiments and two battalions.

Speaking of the service performed by the hundred-day troops, Governor Yates, in his last annual message, paid them a high and deserved compliment in these words:

"Our regiments under this call performed indispensable and invaluable services in Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri, relieving garrisons of veteran troops who were sent to the front, took part in the Atlanta campaign, several of them also composing a part of that glorious army that has penetrated the very vitals of the rebellion and plucked some of the brightest laurels that this heroic age has woven for a patriotic soldier. Five out of the one hundred-day regiments, after their term of service had expired, voluntarily extended their engagements with the Government, and marched to the relief of the gallant and able Rosecrans, who, at the head of an inadequate and poorly appointed army, was contending against fearful odds for the preservation of St. Louis and the safety of Missouri. The officers and soldiers of these regiments evinced the highest soldierly qualities and fully sustained the proud record our veterans have ever attained in the field, and the State and Country owe them lasting gratitude, and we have in a great degree to attribute our success in Virginia and Georgia to the timely organization and efficient services of the one hundred-day volunteers furnished by all of said States. The President has, by order, returned them the thanks of the Government and the Nation for the service thus rendered, and accords the full measure of praise to them as our supporters and defenders in the rear, to which the regular reserve force of large armies are always entitled."

HISTORY OF ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SIXTH INFANTRY.

The companies forming the One Hundred and Thirty-sixth Infantry were enlisted about the first of May, 1864, and went into camp at Centralia, Ill., but were not mustered into the United States service until the first day of June following. Shortly after muster the Regiment received marching orders and was sent by rail to Cairo, Ill., and there placed on a boat, with Fort Pillow as its probable destination. But when the Regiment arrived at Columbus, Ky., word was received that General Forrest was making a feint on Fort Pillow but would attack Columbus and the Regiment was consequently landed at Columbus, where it remained doing garrison duty during the months of June, July, August and part of September.

While stationed at Columbus a report was received stating that General Forrest was marching on and would attack Paducah, Ky., and the Regiment was ordered to march out and intercept him, and leaving Columbus August 12, it marched to Mayfield, Ky., but there learned that General Forrest had changed his course and was marching back toward Memphis, which place he attacked and captured.

From Mayfield part of the Regiment was sent to Paducah and from there to Columbus by boat, where the Regiment proper marched back to Columbus direct.

When the time for which the Regiment enlisted expired it was called upon to re-enlist for fifteen days and each man was promised a medal for this extra service, but although the extra time was served the promise was never redeemed.

The Regiment was finally ordered to Chicago to be mustered out, and left Columbus on Sunday morning about September 26, and went by boat to Cairo, Ill., where it remained until Tuesday morning and then started by rail for Chicago, but General Price was at that time making a raid through Missouri and the destination of the Regiment was changed, and it was sent to Missouri to meet Price.

The Regiment traveled by rail until the Sunday morning following when it arrived at St. Louis and went into camp at Benton Barracks, having been on the train almost continuously for six days during which time the men only had two meals of cooked rations, and suffered greatly for want of water.

After remaining at Benton Barracks two days the Regiment was divided and the several companies sent to the various forts around St. Louis, and remained in charge of the forts until October 15. The Regiment was then sent to Camp Butler, and on the 22d day of October was mustered out of the service, but was detained at Camp Butler waiting for pay and final discharges until the 30th day of October, 1864.

From the time the Regiment enlisted until finally paid off the time actually in the service and detained by the Government was but a few days less than six months.

The Regiment was never in a regular battle. The service rendered was principally garrison duty with occasional scouts and raids against the guerrillas.

The Regiment traveled by rail about 859 miles, by boat about 71 miles and marched about 145 miles, making the total distance traveled about 1,075 miles.

All members of the Regiment received from President Lincoln certificates of honorable service.

HISTORY OF ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHTH INFANTRY.

The One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Infantry was enrolled for service during the month of May. This Regiment rendezvoused at Camp Wood, Quincy, Ill., and was mustered into the United States service June 21, 1864, with Colonel J. W. Goodwin as Colonel commanding.

On the 26th day of June the Regiment was directed by the Secretary of War to proceed to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and there to report to Major General Samuel R. Curtis, commanding the Department of Kansas. The Regiment was assigned to garrison duty at Fort Leavenworth, with Colonel Goodwin as Post Commander.

This Regiment contained many veterans, whose discipline did not fail to give it the character of experience, and whose previous honorable service infused into its ranks a spirit of praiseworthy and patriotic emulation.

At this time the counties of Jackson, Clay, Platt, Ray and Lafayette, and other counties along the western border of Missouri was over-run and in possession of bands of guerrillas and bushwhackers under the command of the noted Bill Anderson, Cy Gordon and Coon Thornton. Early in July Major Tunnison with companies C and F, was ordered to occupy the post of Weston, Missouri, and operate from this point in driving the guerrillas from this territory. During the months of July, August and a portion of September these companies were in active service, scarcely a day passing without a conflict with some of the horde of desperadoes infesting that community. Early in the month of September, having cleared the counties spoken of, of guerrillas and bushwhackers, companies C and F returned to Fort Leavenworth to continue their services in garrison duty. At the expiration of the term of service the regiment returned to Camp Butler, near Springfield, for muster out.

At this time General Price, commanding the Trans-Mississippi Army, invaded the State of Missouri from the southeast, driving General Ewing, who occupied Pilot Knob from the entrenchments and taking possession of that part of the State, thus cutting off communication between St. Louis and the southeast. The safety of St. Louis and the entire State of Missouri was threatened by this invasion. General Rosencrans was in command of the Department of Missouri, and was at the head of an inadequate and poorly appointed army contending against fearful odds for the preservation of the city and entire State. This regiment voluntarily extended its term of service, and, by direction of the Secretary of War, proceeded to St. Louis and there reported to General Rosencrans for duty. The duty of opening up the communication between the South and East part of the State was assigned to this Regiment. They proceeded along the Iron Mountain Railroad as far as Ironton, Company C occupying the advance in guarding railway bridges from destruction by the rear of Price's Army. After General Price and his army was driven from the State this Regiment again returned to Camp Butler and was mustered out of the United States service on the 14th day of October.

HISTORY OF ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-NINTH INFANTRY.

The One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Infantry was mustered into the United States service as a one hundred-day Regiment, at Peoria, on the 1st day of June, 1864, and on the 5th of June, it moved for St. Louis by steamboat, arriving there on the 10th; thence it moved to Columbus, Ky., where it remained about a week, when it was moved to Cairo as a garrison for that place. Here the Regiment remained until August with but little to disturb the monotony of camp life.

About the 1st of August, a guerrilla party had captured some steamboats a short distance above Paducah, and took from them several hundred cattle and horses. General Payne, who was then commanding the Department of Northern Kentucky, ordered Colonel Davison to take 400 of his men and go and take from the rebel farmers living in the counties adjoining the Ohio River, where the capture was made, as many cattle and horses as had been taken from the boats. Some of the stock was recaptured, and enough others taken as directed to make good the loss. Two or three of the ringleaders of the guerrilla party were also captured. After the return of this expedition the Regiment remained at Cairo doing garrison duty until the 25th of September. It was then moved to Peoria to be mustered out of the service. But the time had not come yet. General Price with a large rebel force was marching towards St. Louis, and there were not enough troops to defend it that could be spared from other places. President Lincoln therefore sent a dispatch to Colonel Davison requesting him to take his Regiment and go at once to St. Louis. The President was aware the Regiment had already served beyond the time for which it was enlisted. As soon as the circumstances were explained to the men they were ready to go. For this prompt response, the President wrote a letter to the men of the Regiment, expressing his thanks and commending them for their patriotism. Going by rail to St. Louis the Regiment marched out in the direction of Franklin to meet General Price. Several other Regiments joining in the march the rebel General soon decided it was to his advantage to move to the southern part of the State. The Union troops followed as fast as possible but failed to catch him. Having driven him to a remote part of the State the Regiment was again moved to Peoria, where it was mustered out of the service on the 25th of October, 1864, having been in the service nearly five months.

[For further information concerning the call of these troops into the field see remarks which precede roster of the One Hundred and Thirty-second Infantry.]

HISTORY OF ONE HUNDRED AND FORTIETH INFANTRY.

The One Hundred and Fortieth Infantry was organized at Camp Butler June 18, 1864, and mustered into the United States service on that date and on the same day left by rail for Cairo; thence by boat for Memphis. From Memphis it marched to Wolfe River, a distance of thirty miles east, and was there formed into divisions and placed at different points along the line of the railroad between there and Holly Springs. It remained there about three months guarding the railroad, after which it moved to Memphis and did guard duty until ordered to Camp Fry, Chicago, for muster out, which occurred October 29, 1864. After having given up their arms they were solicited by Adjutant General Fuller to re-organize and march through Missouri in pursuit of General Price, which they did. This trip occupied about six weeks, when the Regiment returned to Camp Fry, and was finally dismissed after serving about five months.

[For further information concerning the nature and character of the service of this Regiment see remarks preceding One Hundred and Thirty-second Infantry.]

HISTORY OF ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-FOURTH INFANTRY.

The One Hundred and Forty-fourth Infantry was organized at Alton, in 1864, as a one year Regiment. It was mustered into the service October 21. Its strength, 1,159. Notwithstanding diligent effort was made to obtain historical mention of the services of this Regiment, none was sent into the office and hence it was not in our power to say anything authentic concerning the campaign of the Regiment.

Its record in the office, however, shows that it was mustered out of the service July 14, 1865.

HISTORY OF ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-SEVENTH INFANTRY.

The One Hundred and Forty-seventh Illinois Infantry Volunteers was organized at Camp Fry, Chicago, Ill., by Col. H. F. Sickles, and mustered into the United States service for one year, February 18th and 19th, 1865, and was the first of ten regiments recruited under the call of December 19, 1864.

The Regiment was recruited as follows: Company A, from Winnebago county; company B, from Whiteside county; company C, from Kendall and LaSalle counties; company D, from Cook county; company E, from Stephenson county; company F, from DeKalb county; company G, from Whiteside, Lee and Ogle counties; company H, from LaSalle county; company I, from Lake county, and company K, from Kankakee county.

On the 21st of February, 1865, the Regiment moved via Louisville, Ky., to Nashville, Tenn., arriving on the 25th. On the 27th, moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., and thence to Dalton, Ga., arriving on the 28th. At this time the troops at Dalton consisted of the One Hundred and Forty-seventh Illinois, One Hundred and Forty-fifth Indiana, a Georgia battalion of 100 men, and four pieces of artillery. Colonel Sickles assumed command of the post.

On March 8th, companies C, F and B, under command of Captain Clendenin, and two companies of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Indiana, all under command of Major Williams, of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Indiana, were ordered to Spring Place, Ga., about 16 miles east, to break up a guerrilla camp. On account of the limited means of crossing a stream 8 miles distant, could not reach destination at time designated in orders, and the expedition was abandoned.

On March 12th, the One Hundred and Eighty-seventh Ohio Volunteer Infantry arrived, and on the 13th, the One Hundred and Fifty-first Illinois.

On March 14th, Major Bush, with about 125 men, went on an expedition to Mill Creek, on the Cleveland road, and broke up a nest of guerrillas, having several skirmishes with them—one man of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Indiana being wounded.

On March 16th, Brigadier General H. M. Judah arrived, and assumed command on the 17th; and the One Hundred and Forty-seventh Illinois, One Hundred and Fifty-first Illinois, One Hundred and Forty-fifth Indiana, One Hundred and Eighty-seventh Ohio, First Georgia Infantry, and First Ohio Artillery, were organized as the First Brigade, Second Separate Division, Army of the Cumberland.

On March 20th, Major Bush, with seven companies of the Regiment, went to Spring Place, Ga., to break up guerrilla bands, and protect Union men and their families. While en route skirmishing took place between our scouts and guerrillas, one on each side being wounded. Arrived at Spring Place and went into bivouac about 10 P. M.

On 21st, marched at 5 A. M. to house of Judge Turner, a Union man, about 4 miles beyond Spring Place, where about seven teams were loaded with household goods to take to Dalton. After going about one mile on return trip, our advance scouts were fired upon by guerrillas and driven back, but were checked by our command. Company B was ordered in advance, and Lieutenant W. H. H. Jones, with 15 men, deployed as skirmishers on right of road. When within about one-fourth of a mile of Spring Place, were again attacked, and the balance of Company B, under Captain Clendenin, deployed on left of road, and the enemy were driven through the town. The return march to Dalton was then taken up, and after two miles march the rear guard, under Captain Clendenin, was attacked, and two men, John D. Johnston and Martin V. Durstine, of Company B, were wounded in left leg; the former so severely that his leg was amputated April 5, and death took place within a few hours thereafter. Durstine was discharged on account of his wound July 2, 1865. The fire was returned by the whole command, and several casualties inflicted on the guerrillas, who were seen no more. Arrived in Dalton on 22d.

On March 28, Colonel Sickles went to Chattanooga to serve as President of a court martial, and the Regiment went to Ringgold, to resist a reported attack of 300 rebels; the only troops there being Company K, under command of Captain Cliniquy. It proving a false alarm, returned on the 29th. In passing a large wood pile, the door of a car was knocked off, and injured 10 of our men. Captain Cliniquy remained at Ringgold. Captain Borland, with Company D, was guarding a block house on the line of the railroad.

On the 30th, the Sixth Regiment of Tennessee Cavalry, only part being mounted, arrived.

On April 1st, the Regiment (except Companies A, D and K,) and two companies of Cavalry, went on a scouting expedition, under command of Lieutenant Colonel Bjerg. As we entered Spring Place in the evening, a few harmless shots were fired by guerrillas. On the morning of the 22d, the pickets were attacked, doing no damage, except wounding a horse of one of the cavalry, which had to be killed. Moved in a southerly direction, and after a two mile march were again attacked by the enemy, had one company deployed as skirmishers and had pretty sharp firing for a little while resulting in the retreat of our foes; marched about 16 miles and camped on the Cossawattee River. During the night shots were exchanged by our pickets with those of the enemy on the opposite side of the river. On the 3d, Major Bush, with three companies of the Regiment and one of Cavalry, moved up the river to find a crossing place and Colonel Bjerg with balance of command moved south for the same purpose. Colonel Bjerg's command found a crossing place at Pullen's Ferry, and boat hid on opposite side; two men swam across and secured it, were fired on but crossed and found a quantity of forage and provisions, indicating the place as headquarters for guerrillas. Leaving Captain Clendenin with companies B and H, and twenty Cavalry to hold place and guard the ferry. Colonel Bjerg with balance of command proceeded to find Major Bush; on return with him was attacked by guerrillas. Captain Clendenin's command was attacked twice, but repulsed. When our forces were united the enemy made a vigorous attack, but were repulsed, their commander, Major Edmeston, and several other officers and men being killed. Our loss was two wounded. We then crossed the river and after a five mile march camped for the night. On our march to camp on the 4th, were saluted with a few harmless shots from the guerrillas.

On May 1, Captain Clendenin with company B, was ordered to report to Major Williams, of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Indiana, who, with company F, of One Hundred and Forty-fifth Indiana, was to repair roads and bridges to Resaca 16 miles south, and arrived at latter place on the 2d. HISTORY OF ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FIRST INFANTRY.

This Regiment was organized at Quincy, Ill., and mustered into the United States service, February 23, 1865, and was composed of companies from various parts of the State, recruited under the call of December 19, 1864.

From Quincy, it proceeded, by rail, to Springfield, Ill., where the field and staff officers were mustered in February 25, 1865. The Regiment received its arms and accoutrements, and was then ordered to proceed to Nashville, Tenn., via Louisville, Ky. Thence, on March 7, marched to Murfreesboro, and proceeded by rail, to Chattanooga, Tenn., and reported to Major General James B. Steadman, commanding the District, who at once ordered the Regiment to report to Colonel Sickles, at Dalton, Ga., where it arrived February 13, 1865. There the Regiment remained, drilling, and engaged in picket and guard duty, and scouting.

The One Hundred and Fifty-first Illinois, One Hundred and Forty-seventh Illinois, One Hundred and Forty-fifth Indiana, and the One Hundred and Eighty-seventh Ohio, were brigaded, and became the First Brigade, Second Separate Division Army of the Cumberland.

April 23, Colonel Woodall was detailed to proceed, under flag of truce, to Macon, Ga., via Atlanta, to communicate with Major General Wilson, and carry, also terms offered to the rebel General Warford, for his surrender, together with that of his command. This mission he executed with credit and dispatch, and was complimented by his commanding officer, Brigadier General H. M. Judah, who had relieved Colonel Sickles, and was at that time, in command of the Brigade.

May 2, ordered to proceed to Resaca, Georgia, where, after a few days, was ordered to Calhoun, and thence to Kingston, Ga., where the Regiment arrived May 12, after a most toilsome march. The Regiment marched into this town with the precision of regulars, as it was here they were to receive the surrender of the rebel General Warford and his command, which was done on the 13th, 14th and 15th of May, 1865. 10,400 rebels paroled in all.

Colonel Woodall was left in command of the post of Kingston. Company D, Captain David, was sent to garrison Adairsville, and Company F, Captain Heir, was sent to garrison Rome, while the Lieutenant Colonel was left in command of the Regiment. The garrison was chiefly engaged in securing good order, and guarding government property.

July 24, Lieutenant Colonel Snow was ordered to proceed, with three companies, to Cartersville, and Major Battey sent to Rome, to relieve Captain Heir. Captain Slaughter in command of the Regiment, and Captain Goble detailed as Provost Marshal.

July 28, Regiment ordered to proceed to Columbus, Ga., where it arrived July 31, 1865.

Colonel Woodall was assigned to the command of a district of six counties, and Lieutenant Colonel Snow to the command of the Regiment. Lieutenant Colonel Snow subsequently detailed as Agent of Freedmen's Bureau; then Provost Marshal General of the State of Georgia, on General Steadman's staff, where he remained until the office was abolished by orders of War Department. Detailed again as Judge Advocate of a Military Commission, until relieved and ordered to join his Regiment for muster-out.

This Regiment saw no fighting, but guerrilla skirmishes.

It was mustered out at Columbus, Ga., January 21, 1866, and ordered to Springfield, Ill., where it received final payment and discharge, February 8, 1866.

HISTORY OF ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOURTH INFANTRY.

The One Hundred and Fifty-fourth Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry was organized at Camp Butler, Ill., February 21, 1865, under the call of December 19, 1864.

Left by rail, for Louisville, Ky., February 24; arrived at Nashville, Tenn., February 27; was detained there by floods until March 2, then went, by rail, to Murfreesboro. The Regiment here suffered very much from exposure to continued cold rains, and sickness prevailed to a great extent, and many of the men died from the severe exposure. Remained at Murfreesboro, drilling and doing picket and guard duty, until May 13. Marched for Tullahoma, May 15; remained at Tullahoma until June 11, when the Regiment returned, by railroad, to Nashville, Tenn., where the Regiment was put on picket, guard and garrison duty, and many of the officers on court martial and military commissions. Colonel McLain F. Wood died August 6, being at the time in command of the post of Nashville. Dr. Melvin W. Rush, Surgeon, died August 13. September 18, 1865, the Regiment was mustered out, at Nashville, Tenn., and ordered to Springfield, Ill., for final payment and discharge, where it arrived September 22. On the 29th of September, 1865, the Regiment was paid off and discharged at Camp Butler, Ill.

HISTORY OF ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FIFTH INFANTRY.

The One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Infantry Illinois Volunteers was organized at Camp Butler, Ill., by Colonel Gustavus A. Smith, and mustered in February 28, 1865, for one year. On March 2, the Regiment—904 strong—moved, via Louisville and Nashville, to Tullahoma, Tenn., and reporting to General Milroy, was assigned to the command of Brevet Brigadier General Dudley. On June 17, the Regiment was divided into detachments of twenty or thirty men each, and assigned to guard duty on the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, occupying the block houses from Nashville to Duck River, a distance of fifty miles.

On September 4, the Regiment was mustered out of service, and moved to Camp Butler, Ill., where it received final pay and discharge.

HISTORY OF FIRST CAVALRY.

The First Cavalry was organized—that is, seven companies, A, B, C, D, E, F and G,—at Alton, in 1861, and was mustered into the United States service July 3. Companies I, H and K, were not mustered in with the Regiment, nor did they operate in the field as a part of the Regiment proper.

From Alton the Regiment moved to St. Charles, Mo., where Colonel U. S. Grant was then in command. After remaining at this place a few days drilling, and receiving arms and uniforms, the Regiment moved in a westerly direction, until it arrived at Jefferson City; remained there but a few days; from thence it moved to Mexico; from Mexico to Hannibal; and from Hannibal to Lexington. While on the way to Lexington, Company C, commanded by Captain Mitchell, encountered a rebel force, under command of Colonel McGoffin, at Georgetown, in which the company lost 1 man killed and 4 wounded; Captain Mitchell was among the latter. The rebels retreated but Colonel McGoffin was captured and held as a prisoner of war until after the battle of Lexington.

The battle of Lexington was the principal engagement in which the Regiment took part though it was ever on the alert and did much scouting and valuable service in various ways.

At Lexington the Regiment was joined by the Irish Brigade, under command of Colonel James Mulligan, and a small body of Missouri home guards.

The battle of Lexington really commenced on Monday September 11, at which time an advance force of 3,000 men under General Harris advanced upon the place. The First Cavalry and the Thirteenth Missouri were ordered out to meet them. A sharp decisive action occurred which resulted in considerable loss to the Confederates. After this there was little of moment until the 18th, each party anxiously watching for reinforcements and Colonel Mulligan making his position as strong as possible.

Colonel Mulligan met the attack of the enemy with undaunted bravery and although overwhelmed with a greatly superior force it was only after fifty-two hours of hard and uninterrupted fighting he surrendered the place. Colonel Mulligan's force, all told, numbered less than 2,500 men while that of the enemy was 10,000 or more. The surrender took place on the 20th of September.

The officers were put on parole while the privates were given their choice of taking an oath to not again take up arms until they were exchanged or to remain as prisoners of war. They chose to take the oath and they were escorted to the railroad where they took passage for Quincy and from thence to St. Louis where they remained until they were joined by the officers of the Regiment a week later.

The Regiment was paid off at St. Louis about the last of September, and returned to their homes to await an exchange. In November, however, the government having failed to effect an exchange of the non-commissioned officers and privates, ordered them to Springfield and discharged them.

The commissioned officers were exchanged in December, and were ordered to reorganize the Regiment and it was also ordered that such of the non-commissioned officers and privates as wished might return with their respective companies and receive pay as if they had remained continuously in the service, and to complete the re-organization by the enlistment of recruits. With this understanding the Regiment was re-organized at Benton Barracks in June, 1862. Quite a number of the non-commissioned officers and privates of the original organization returned to their respective companies.

The Regiment remained at Benton Barracks a month or more when it was moved westward and was engaged for a time in guarding supply trains and supply depots at Rolla, Houston, Westplains and other places.

In the re-organization of the Regiment there were one or two vacancies in nearly if not all the companies; some of the officers having been promoted or assigned to other regiments while others had resigned.

In attempting to fill these vacancies a great dissatisfaction ensued throughout the entire Regiment which culminated in an order from the war department disbanding and mustering out of the service the officers and men, which took place at Benton Barracks July 14, 1862.

The order to muster out the Regiment included Companies I and H, which had been on detached service from their first enlistment in July, 1861, and which were in no way involved in the trouble which resulted in the peremptory disbanding as the following history of their service will show:

Company I was the first company of soldiers enlisted in White county. It was organized to go into the Eighteenth Infantry under President Lincoln's call for 75,000 men but failing to get into that Regiment it was afterward mustered in as cavalry at Alton about the 12th of June, and on the 12th of July were assigned to duty at Bird's Point. For a month or more this company was the only cavalry force at Bird's Point, where it was kept continually on the move scouting the country.

In the meantime Company H had arrived at Cairo and some time in August it was sent over to Bird's Point. Both companies were in the battle of Belmont and also with General Pope at the capture of New Madrid. Some weeks later Company I acting as a body guard for General Payne crossed the Mississippi River in transports and assisted in the capture of the rebel army at Island No. 10. The two companies remained at New Madrid until after the capture of Memphis when they were sent to that point and it was while there that the order came mustering them out of the service with the Regiment which was then at Benton Barracks.

It is worthy of remark to say that Company K was never in reality a part of the First Cavalry for it was transferred to the Fifteenth Cavalry as Company M.

It is also worthy of remark that in the interval which ensued between the surrender of Lexington and the re-organization and muster out of the First Cavalry a great many of the men entered other regiments and remained in the field until the war was over.

HISTORY OF SECOND CAVALRY.

The Second Illinois Cavalry was organized and mustered into the service at Camp Butler, Ill., August 12, 1861, and with Company M which joined the Regiment some months later; numbered 47 commissioned officers and 1,040 enlisted men, this number was increased during its four and a half years term of service to 2,236 enlisted men, and 145 officers, 12 of whom were not mustered. Ninety-six different persons held commissions and were mustered upon them, of them six were killed in battle, two died of wounds and three of disease, while in the service, making a total of eleven.

The Regiment left Camp Butler August 29, 1861, and camped for brief periods in Carbondale, DuQuoin and Fort Massock on the Ohio River. Arrived at the latter place September 24. From this point 6 companies went to Cairo on October 3, 1861. Oct 14th, five of these companies were attached to the Second Brigade which was commanded by Colonel Oglesby. October 16th Company C was sent to Caledonia, where they spent the winter, in December the companies at Cairo crossed to Bird's Point and did considerable scouting after Jeff Thompson's command. On December 11, 1861, captured 6 of his men and had their first man killed by a rebel bullet. (Josiah Clark of Company B.) Nov 11, four companies of the Regiment moved from Fort Massock to Padueah, Ky.

January 14th this portion of the Regiment except Company K, started on an expedition under General C. F. Smith, toward Fort Henry, approached to within 15 miles of it and then returned to Paducah after an absence of 11 days. March 2, 1862, Lieutenant Colonel Hogg started from Paducah to Columbus, learning that the place was being evacuated he told the boys that he proposed to march direct to Columbus, and that they might meet some rebels. "If we do" said the Colonel "don't use your pistols, but give them the cold steel. The sabre is the weapon for cavalry to rely upon." About sundown, March 3d they dashed into town with drawn sabers and ran up the stars and stripes amid cheers for the union and their gallant Colonel. Jeff Thompson was in the neighborhood with quite a force of rebel cavalry. No attack. The next morning a fleet of gunboats and transports bearing General Sherman and three Regiments of infantry, steamed cautiously down the river not knowing the place was in possession of the "Yanks" until they saw the stars and stripes floating to the breeze.

Companies A and B, were with General Grant in Tennessee and participated in the engagements at Forts Henry and Donelson, and also at Shiloh. At Donelson

Major Mudd was severely wounded also one other officer and three privates and one missing.

From February 28th to March 14th two companies took part in operations against New Madrid. March 31, 1862, four companies took part in movements against Island No. 10, and two companies under Lieutenant Colonel Hogg accompanied an expedition against Colonel Edward Pickett's brigade, which was camped near Union City, Tenn. They routed the enemy, captured 14 prisoners and considerable stores and destroyed all their camp equipage. May 13, 1862, one squadron of the Regiment was attached to General Thomas' command in front of Corinth. May 19th to 23d, 1862, Colonel Hogg with 4 companies took part in an expedition under General Quinby, against Fort Pillow. After the evacuation of Corinth the Regiment took part in opening the Ohio and Mobile Railroad through Tennessee, although they were with different commands.

The companies that were at Paducah moved to Columbus, Ky., the forepart of June and to Union City, Tenn., about June 19th and thence to Trenton, where they arrived June 17, 1862. August 15, 1862, broke camp and August 26th eight companies arrived at Jackson, Tenn., and went into camp for a short time. On August 16th Lieutenant Terry with 36 men of Company C, pursued Captain Binford (who had a much larger force) for 30 miles, overtook and charged them as they lay behind logs at Merriweather's Ferry on the Obion River. Lieutenants Terry and Goodheart, also Private Stone were killed and six wounded, the engagement lasted half an hour, the enemy lost 42 killed and nearly all their equipments. On August 30th seven of the companies from Jackson arrived at Bolivar, Tenn., about 9 o'clock A. M., and as soon as possible Lieutenant Colonel Hogg with about 130 men was ordered to report to Colonel Leggett about 6 miles south of Bolivar, where with a small force of infantry they met the advance of General Armstrong's command which was 6,000 or more cavalry. After a sharp skirmish the Second Missouri commanded by Colonel McCulloch was preparing to charge Colonel Hogg's small force. Colonel Leggett said to Colonel Hogg, "if you have any doubt about holding your position you had better face back and not receive their charge." He promptly replied "Colonel Leggett for God's sake don't order me back." I replied "meet them with a charge, Colonel, and may heaven bless you." He immediately ordered his men to draw their sabers and after giving the command "forward" he exclaimed "give them cold steel boys" and darting ahead of his men he fell pierced by nine bullets. First Lieutenant N. T. Shannon was also killed and Second Lieutenant L. H. List, mortally wounded, Wm. Ross, Chester Escarton and Martin W. Watson were killed, all of Company F. 18 were wounded, most of whom belonged to the Second Illinois cavalry. The enemy's loss was heavy, but we could not ascertain the number. September 20th and 21st, Colonel Noble and Major Mudd with 350 men of the Second Regiment took the advance of a reconnoissance in force from Bolivar to Lagrange, Tenn. Was out two days, found the enemy in force, had some skirmishing but no casualties on our side. Having obtained the desired information concerning the enemy's force and position, returned to Bolivar. Sept. 25th to Oct. 5th, Company D, and a platoon from Company L took part in a scout after a force of rebel cavalry supposed to be in the rear of Fort Randolph but failed to find them, but captured Captains Clond and Hill, also two privates while out. Oct. 17, 1862, Colonel Faulkner with 300 men attacked the camp at Island No. 10, but were repulsed and Capt. F. F. Moore of Company L with 40 men followed them 20 miles, overtook and fought them for an hour, when finding himself outnumbered he fell back to camp, the rebels not daring to follow. He captured Colonel Faulkner and Captains Merriweather and Blakemore, Lieutenant Johnson and 11 privates, the enemy's loss was heavy in killed and wounded, Captain Moore lost 3 men killed. Oct. 21, 1862, Major Mudd with a portion of the Regiment ran into Haywoods partisan Rangers 7 miles west of Brownsville, Tenn. Killed one captain, captured 40 prisoners, 60 horses and mules and a wagon load of arms. Nov. 8, 1862, Companies H and K of the Second Illinois Cavalry and one company of the 5th Kansas under command of Colonel Lee attacked the First Mississippi and First Tennessee Regiments as they were moving in column of fours. Came up on a ridge to their left which ran parallel with the road, took them completely by surprise, they became panic stricken and their officers could not succeed in rallying them, the enemy's loss was 20 killed and 130 captured. Our loss was 3 men slightly wounded.

The following is a copy of Major Mudd's official report of the fight at Holly Springs, Mississippi:

HEADQUARTERS SECOND ILLINOIS CAVALRY.

HOLLY SPRINGS, MISS., Dec. 27, 1862.

Sir: I have the honor to report the following brief summary of the part performed by the Second Illinois Cavalry in the unfortunate affair of the 20th instant. We (six companies, C, F, G, H, I, and K) were encamped on the fair ground under Lieutenant Colonel McNiell. I was under orders to proceed that day to Oxford by rail, and was not apprised of any attack being apprehended, until about the time the infantry camp near the depot was captured. Colonel McNiell was at the time rallying the men on the east side of camp, and advanced boldly to meet their first attack, but being pressed by overwhelming numbers he was compelled to fall back, and while doing so was unfortunately surrounded and taken prisoner. Not having time to form our men regularly the defense was a series of conflicts, covering each side of our camp, without being aware of the loss of Colonel McNiell. Major Bush rallied a force on the south side. Captain Marsh on the north and myself on the west, each with such aid as could be assembled, and pressed the enemy whose lines now entirely encircled our camp. This fight was now terrible, the enemy gradually giving ground where pressed the hardest, but our detachments in following them up became separated from each other. About this time the enemy broke into our camp from the east, capturing our stragglers and convalescents, and pressing near the rear of each point of defense our only hope of safety now lay in a saber charge, which appeared to be simultaneously executed on the different parts of our line. Captain Marsh handsomely broke through on the north and passed westwardly, leaving Captain Jones, whose horse was shot under him, and Lieutenant Garrett, wounded and both were taken prisoners. With the small force around me I broke the rebel line on the west and with the loss of several of my best men made my way out chasing a large number of rebels and in turn being followed by a heavy detachment of the enemy.

On the west side of town I was joined by Captain Marsh now carrying three wounds notwithstanding which he continued with me on duty nearly all day, his wounds were severe but not dangerous.

Captain's Jones and Higgins ably seconded by Lieutenant Colonel McNiell on the northeast and passed out with Captain Marsh on the west. The former as before stated was taken prisoner, and the latter passing around to the south to the aid of Major Bush who forced the rebel lines on the southeast, and with the aid of many of our officers and men passed through town and back, fighting at every corner, and re-capturing our camp and releasing many of our men who were prisoners; thence to Coldwater, where I subsequently joined him, and aided Colonel O'Meara in preparations for defending his position, then threatened.

Major Bush's report (inclosed) will do justice to other officers who were not under my personal observation. I would be doing violence to justice were I to omit to mention Lieutenant Stickel commanding Company F, as peculiarly worthy of commendation, as were also Lieutenants Weakley and Venard. Lieutenants Hall, Naylor, Moore, Holt and Captain Whitaker, I am told acquitted themselves with honor. On Sunday morning under orders of Colonel O'Meara I came here under a flag of truce, and finding the place deserted and being joined by Lieutenant Stickel with a few men, I took possession of the place and held it until the arrival of Colonel Marsh at 10 o'clock.

I have to report the loss of 8 men killed (including one since dead) and 39 wounded, a few are yet missing some of whom may be wounded. Somewhere about 70 or my men went to Memphis and are yet there. The paroled prisoners reported to Major Fullerton who left with them in my absence and I am without a list and cannot report the number, but it is about 100. This loss is heavy, but the odds were great and any but the most resolute men would have surrendered without attempting to fight or escape.

Our regimental books were saved, but the papers as well as most of the company books and papers were destroyed. Our camp and garrison equipage together with baggage and clothing were all destroyed except a few tents and our men were suffering for want of tents, blankets, clothing and rubber blankets. We took 12 prisoners, one of whom was a major, we took 12 others whom we were compelled to release, not being able to take care of them. (The remainder of report is omitted.) All of which is respectfully submitted by your obedient servant.

JOHN J. MUDD,

Major Commanding Second Illinois Cavalry.

Assistant Adjutant General.

Colonel R. C. Murphy, who was in command of the post, in his official report said concerning the cavalry, that they behaved badly, and that after receiving two volleys from the enemy they cleared out.

General Grant, however, in Special Field Order No. 33, issued Dec. 23, 1862, after censuring Colonel Murphy and a portion of the garrison says, "It is gratifying to notice in contrast with this the conduct of a portion of the command, conspicuous among whom was the Second Illinois Cavalry, which gallantly and successfully resisted being taken prisoners. Their loss was heavy, but the enemy's was much greater. Such conduct as theirs will always insure success, etc."

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE TENNESSEE.

HOLLY SPRINGS, MISS., Jan. 8, 1863.

GENERAL ORDERS, /
NO. 4. \

Colonel R. C. Murphy was dismissed from the service, to take effect from the 20th day of December 1862, the day of his cowardly and disgraceful conduct.

By order of Major General U. S. GRANT,

JOHN A. RAWLINS,

Assistant Adjutant General.

On the 24th of Dec. 1862, Majors Mudd and Bush with about 130 men from companies C, F, G, H and K, joined a force under Colonel Deitzler which was trying to intercept VanDorn's force at Ripley; when within about 12 miles of Ripley, left the rest of the force and pushed on toward the town. When about 7 miles from Ripley, captured 5 rebels, gained considerable information from them concerning the movements of Van Dorn's force and from a negro learned the rear guard had passed through town, dashed into town and drove some stragglers into their camp about a mile from town; we then turned back and met Colonel Mizner and was ordered by him to join in the pursuit and when this was abandoned, returned to Holly Springs. Moved to Memphis the forepart of January and on the 17th of February broke up Major Blythe's camp a few miles from that city, capturing 12 of his command also arms and camp equipage.

On one occasion a lieutenant with parts of three companies was sent out to burn a bridge on Wolf river, Sargent Rider with five men being in advance met a rebel lieutenant with the same number of men and captured the whole party.

Feb. 19th, embarked on the steamer Empress destined for Young's Point, La., were stopped at Greenville and Companies F, I and K, of the Second and about 45 men of the Sixth Missouri, under Colonel Wright were started out with a force of infantry and artillery under command of General Burbridge after a rebel force of cavalry and artillery that was often firing on boats passing that point, the cavalry pushed ahead and about 12 miles out, came in sight of their main force, most of their cavalry with their caissons run at once, Company F gave chase and captured the caissons and quite a number of prisoners, but while bringing them back met the artillery which opened on them, the rebel cavalry also rallied and attacked them from the other side forcing them to abandon their caissons and prisoners. Major Mudd urged Colonel Wright to allow him to capture the artillery which had been deserted by the cavalry, but he refused to permit him to do so.

The rebel loss was six killed, several wounded and 9 prisoners, also all their wagons, ambulances, tents and baggage.

Arrived at Young's Point March 1st, while there a lieutenant and 5 men went 40 miles into the enemy's country by boat and captured 2 lieutenant colonels, 1 sergeant-major and 2 privates, wounded one of them.

From March 30th until the investment of Vicksburg May 17th the Regiment in company with a part of the Third Illinois and Sixth Missouri Cavalry was in the advance and had almost daily skirmishes with the rebels; opened the Champion Hill battle, but after the engagement became general were held in reserve until the rebels began their retreat, at that time and the next day captured several hundred prisoners. On May 5, 1863, near Jackson, Miss., Lieutenant Stieckel with 20 men charged a force of 50 rebels, killing and wounding 12 and capturing about 30 prisoners and drove them five miles; the lieutenant was complimented by General Osterhaus. During the siege of Vicksburg was stationed on Black River and had frequent skirmishes with General Johnson's scouts; in one of these Colonel Mudd was shot at close range, in the face and neck, and dangerously wounded. The next day after the capture of Vicksburg, the Second and parts of the Third Illinois and Sixth Missouri took the advance toward Jackson, skirmishing all the way, and after the capture of that place, went south to Brookhaven, destroying the railroad and much of the rolling stock (4 engines and about 50 cars,) also large quantities of sugar and other supplies. Captured 1 major, 1 captain, 1 lieutenant and about 30 privates without losing a man; returned to Vicksburg July 24th.

August 16th, embarked for New Orleans and upon arriving there went into camp at Carrollton, just above the city, took part in the general review held there Aug. 22, 1863. Started the fore part of October for Berwick Bay, went from there to Iberville, Salt Island, Vermillion Bay and New Iberia. From the time of leaving New Orleans until about the 10th of December was skirmishing almost daily and captured nearly 300 prisoners.

November 7th, Captain Kelly with a squadron charged into Vermillionville, killing and capturing several of the enemy.

Companies F, H and K, being the advance of a force sent out from New Iberia to Camp Pratt, came upon a force of Texas Rangers that outnumbered them considerably and after firing one volley charged them, and chased them several miles, killing 2 and wounding 1, capturing 1 captain and 75 men, making their total loss 82 men; all without losing a man.

On another occasion a lieutenant and 16 men were left to guard a bridge. They had only been there a short time when a like number of the enemy appeared; the boys charged them at once, capturing all but one of them.

While camped at New Iberia, 150 from these six companies re-enlisted about the middle of January, 1864; returned to New Orleans; during the fore part of February the veterans went home on 30 days furlough, Colonel Mudd and Lieutenant-Colonel Bush accompanying them. The non-veteran portion of the Regiment started for Shreveport, Feb. 29, 1864, accompanied by a large force of cavalry, infantry and artillery, after 22 days march, arrived at Alexandria March 20, 1864. Twenty-five gunboats and a large force of infantry and artillery was already there; March 30th the advance guard had some sharp skirmishing and killed 2 rebels and wounded several, the next day near Natchitoches killed 2 and wounded 3 or 4, also captured Captain Faulkner and one of his lieutenants; the captain was quite a noted officer. In a skirmish later in the day Lieutenant Irwin of Company I, and Private Trowncell of Co. K were wounded; from then until April 8th, had heavy skirmishing and fighting daily. On that date General Bank's army met the enemy under Generals Taylor, Price and Muttal, their force being concentrated and in a good position at Sabine Cross roads, about 3 miles from Mansfield. Bank's force was scattered for 30 miles or more, and consequently were defeated with heavy loss, the Second losing 42 killed and wounded and 10 missing, most of whom proved to be wounded and captured, out of about 150 men engaged and also had 82 horses killed and wounded. Major Marsh seemed to lead a charmed life, his voice was always heard in the thickest of the fight. At Bayou DeGlaze a shell burst over his head sending a fragment through his horse a few inches from the saddle. Adjutant Moore also distinguished himself by his soldierly bearing; he had his third horse killed June 1st in a charge at the Atchafalaya.

Soon after the return of the veterans, Colonel Mudd was appointed chief of Cavalry, on General McClelland's staff and started up Red River to join the general at Alexandria. On May 3d the steamer was captured and Colonel Mudd and two other colonels were killed.

While at Baton Rouge, three columns under direction of General Lee, moved by different routes on Liberty some 50 miles east of Baton Rouge. Colonel Marsh with the Second started on the evening of Nov. 15, 1864, swam the Amite River, and arrived in vicinity of Liberty next evening. Lieutenant Stichel with 20 picked men had the advance with instructions to disperse all pickets and bands of the enemy. The instructions were carried out to the letter, and the place was taken completely by surprise. On nearing the town, the advance captured a prisoner who mistook them for confederates and stated that General Hodges with most of the troops had gone to meet the Regiment, leaving his adjutant-general with some detachments in town; the Regiment, leaving his adjutant-general with some detachments in town; the advance followed at some distance by the Regiment, moved into town singing Dixie and answering the questions of soldiers met on the street in such a way as to entirely deceive them; halted in front of the hotel and called for the adjutant-general, who came out and with other members of the staff were taken in. About 100 prisoners were captured that night and as many more the next day. Major Jones made a raid in the country and captured a cannon. General Lee and the other columns came up the next day when the rebels made a determined attack, but were repulsed with loss. (See General Order.) Soon after the raid to Liberty the Regiment joined General Davidson's expedition towards Mobile. Crossed Pearl River at Columbia, and with some other cavalry went to Passaigoula.

The object of the expedition was accomplished, which was to prevent a rebel force from leaving Mobile to attack Sherman's flank on his march to the sea. About the first of January, 1865, the Regiment took a steamer for New Orleans and went into camp at Carrollton, March 11th; again passed through the mouth of the Mississippi and the next evening arrived at Pensacola, Florida, and went into camp at old Fort Barancas, just across the bay from Fort Pickens. March 20th started towards Fort Blakely, captured a train of cars with a rebel paymaster on board, and on April 1st drove the enemy inside the works at Fort Blakely. Captured a battle flag and held the position until the infantry invested the place. After the fall of the fort April 9th, started through Alabama in pursuit of Jeff Davis. April 11th near Mount Pleasant encountered the enemy and had a running fight with them. Killed 2, wounded 10 and captured 70 prisoners. Captain Kelly of Company I captured the regimental colors of the 15th regular confederate cavalry; the federal loss was 2 killed, and 6 or 8 wounded. The First Louisiana Cavalry was in the advance and took part in this engagement on May 3d; when about 2 miles from Willow Springs General Pillow entered the road near Sergeant Burnell and inquired for the commanding officer, he was taken to Colonel Marsh and tendered his sword to him, but the Colonel refused to accept it. June 4th go into camp 4 miles from Vicksburg on the 14th go to Vicksburg and the next day embark for the mouth of Red River; June 6th start up Red River with a fleet of 22 steamboats, arrived at Shreveport June 21, 1865, and on Sunday June 25th the Regiment was consolidated, forming six companies, A, B, C, D, E and F. On July 9th started on the march to San Antonio, Texas, arrived there August 2, 1865, and on Oct. 31st received orders for muster out of service Nov. 15th, grand review by Major General Merrett and General Gibbs and turned over ordinance stores to Post Quarter Master and ordinance officers. Nov. 19th Major-General Merritt in special order No. 99, complimented the officers and men very highly, said that they had performed actions which reflected great glory on themselves and their state and that the conduct of the officers and men had been of the most exemplary character, with scarcely a single exception.

Was mustered out of the service Nov. 24th by Lieutenant Stichel.

November 27th started for home via New Orleans, Vicksburg and Cairo; December 20th took the train at Cairo for Springfield, where they arrived Dec. 28th at 4:30 P. M.

Jan. 3, 1866, received their pay and final discharge from the service. The men are filled with a strange mixture of joy and sadness; were joyful on account of their release from the hardships, privations and dangers incident to the life of a soldier and also at the prospect of meeting the loved ones at home.

And sad on account of the severing of ties of friendship made doubly strong by those very hardships, privations and dangers which had been borne together by these men. This sketch revised by,

HISTORY OF THIRD CAVALRY.

The Third Cavalry was composed of twelve companies, coming together from various localities in the State. Company A was raised in Sangamon, Company B in Tazewell, Company C in Cass, Company D in Bond, Company E in Saline and Gallatin, Company F in Adams, Company G in Brown, Company H in Fulton, Company I in McLean, Company K in Livingston, Company L in Macoupin, Company M in Christian and adjoining counties, making a grand total of company officers and enlisted men, under first organization, of 1,433.

The Regiment was organized at Camp Butler, in August, 1861, by Colonel Eugene A. Carr, an officer of the regular army, and graduate of West Point, where it remained under instruction in drill and the school of the soldier, until the 25th of September, at which date the Regiment moved to St. Louis, Mo.

On the 1st of October the Regiment advanced to Jefferson City, and from thence marched to Warsaw, where it arrived on the 11th, capturing a large store of supplies. Remaining in camp building a bridge across the Osage River, which, being completed, the march was continued on the 23d in the direction of Springfield, Mo., in Colonel Carr's Brigade, Brigadier General Asboth's Division, under the personal command of Major General Fremont. Soon after arriving at Springfield, on the 2d of November, Major General Hunter assumed command of the army, superseding General Fremont, who had been in command just one hundred days.

November 13th, the First and Second Battalion of the Third Cavalry, retired to Rolla, Mo., with the army. The Third Battalion, in command of Major Ruggles, remained with General Siegel's Division, scouting and protecting the rear of the retreating army, being the last to leave Springfield to the occupancy of the enemy.

The Regiment arrived at Rolla on the 19th of November, and remained until the 29th of December, when it moved in the advance of General Curtis' army, for Springfield and the southwest.

Tarrying a few days at Camp Ruggles, the Regiment, with Colonel Carr's Division, arrived at Marshfield on the 11th of February, a small force of the enemy fleeing before it. On the 13th, the Regiment went into camp about eight miles from Springfield, when Major Ruggles asked and obtained leave to advance with his Battalion four miles further on, where the enemy was met, and the first engagement fought, and the first victory won in the Curtis campaign, by the Third Battalion of the Third Cavalry.

On the 14th the army occupied Springfield, General Price and his army fleeing to the south. On the 15th our forces came up on the retreating army at Crone Creek, and captured some prisoners. On the 15th, at Sugar Creek, the Third Battalion participated in a cavalry charge, routing the enemy. On the 20th, the Third Battalion marched to Cross Hollows, Arkansas, where a portion of the army remained until the 5th of March. On that afternoon our scouts encountered an overpowering force advancing on Cross Hollows. Couriers were at once sent to Colonel Vandever's Brigade at Huntsville, and to General Siegel's Division at Bentonville, (who was already engaged with the enemy,) notifying them to concentrate forces at Pea Ridge. Our army supplies at Cross Hollows were burned and destroyed, and during that cold and dreary night we fell back on Pea Ridge. On the 6th we were getting ready for the battle that was soon to be fought, meanwhile Vandever's Brigade, with the First and Second Battalion of the Third Cavalry, arrived in the evening, after a long and tedious march of 48 miles, and General Sigel, being reinforced by Major Ruggles' Battalion, had fallen back to within three miles of Pea Ridge, forming the extreme left of our forces. Major Ruggles was selected as officer of the day and rode all night posting and visiting the line of pickets, some of whom were driven in during the night by the closing in of the enemy. At sunrise on the 7th, the battle opened fiercely with artillery and small arms, Sigel being three miles to the left of the main battle ground. The First and Third Battalions in Polze's Brigade, and the Second in Vandever's Brigade, were engaged all day, doing good service. At the end of the day's battle our forces had been beaten back, our army stores captured, and the night closed in with a gloomy prospect. On the morning of the 8th, General Sigel having defeated the enemy in his front, moved up and joined his forces on the left, supported by Major Ruggles' Battalion.

The artillery opened all along our line, and soon the enemy became badly demoralized and the demoralization ended in a rout and stampede in all directions, giving us the field and the victory before noon of that eventful day.

In this three days desperate struggle against three times our number of men, the Third Cavalry performed its full share in the achievement of the victory, losing to killed and 40 wounded.

A week later the Third Cavalry, in command of General Asboth, made a flying visit to Fayetteville, Ark., driving out the enemy from that place.

On the 19th the Cavalry, with the army, moved back to Keytesville, Mo., where Lieutenant Colonel McCredick, who had been absent for some time, and Major Hubbard, joined the Regiment. On the 19th of April went into camp for a few days at Forsyth. On the 29th arrived at West Plains, and on the 3d of May went into camp at Batesville, Ark. On the 14th moved to Little Red River. On the 25th, in crossing White River, Captain McClellan, of Company H, a brave and gallant officer, with five enlisted men, were drowned by the overturning of the ferry boat—a sad calamity.

On the 4th of June the Regiment fell back to Fairview. On the 7th Captain Sparks and 66 men were surrounded by 300 of the enemy's Cavalry, but cut their way out, losing four wounded and four taken prisoners. On the 11th the Regiment returned to Batesville, and moved on to Jacksonport.

On the 5th of July the Cavalry, with the army, began its march for Helena, following down the course of White River, and arrived at its destination on the 15th, after ten days of marching, fighting, starving and famishing for water, our supplies and communications being cut off and the country having been laid waste by the enemy.

During the long encampment at Helena, the Regiment participated in many raids, scouts, and foraging expeditions. Of the notable incidents, Captain Kirkbride made a raid on the St. Francis River, and Lieutenant Colonel Ruggles, with five companies, accompanied General Washburn in his expedition to Grenada, Mississippi—the object being to destroy railroads and bridges in rear of the enemy who were at the time being driven back by General Grant in the direction of Holly Springs. The raid was successful, but General Grant changed his plans—turned back—and we had to fall back on Helena in double-quick time.

The long stay at Helena proved to be demoralizing and disastrous. The place was sickly, from malaria and bad water, and the men languished with disease and inactivity.

On the 23d of December the Regiment, excepting Companies E and G under command of Lieutenant Colonel Ruggles, embarked on transports, joining the forces moving on Vicksburg, under the command of Major General W. S. Sherman.

Arriving at Chickasaw Bayou, the Regiment was detailed for picket duty and escorts for Commanding Generals, and did good service in the disastrous attack on Haines' Bluff.—Companies A, K, L and M, in command of Captain Carmalen, being the last to embark after the battle.

Retiring from the Bayou, the Regiment moved up the river with the expedition in command of General McClelland, in the advance on Arkansas Post, where a lively battle was fought, 5,000 prisoners captured, and valuable service rendered by the Third Cavalry, which returned with the victorious army to Vicksburg.

In February, 1863, on account of high water interfering with cavalry operations, General Grant ordered five companies, with the Colonel and headquarters, to Memphis. From this time on the Regiment was decimated and crippled somewhat in its efficiency. Company L was assigned as escort to Major General McClelland, and Companies A, G, K and E, in command of Captain Carnahan, were assigned to duty under Brigadier General P. J. Osterhaus, in the Eighteenth Army Corps. This Battalion took an honorable part in the battles of Port Gibson, Champion Hills, Black River Bridge, and the siege of Vicksburg.

On the 16th of August the Battalion reported for duty to Major General Banks, and was assigned to Brigadier General Lee's Cavalry Division, taking part in the Western Louisiana campaign, and at Vermillionville, Opelousas and Carrion Crow Bayou. In December Major O'Connor took command of the Battalion, and moved to Fort Hudson, and from thence to Memphis, again joining the Regiment, which had, since leaving Vicksburg, been engaged in active service along the line of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, participating in the battles of Tupelo, Oklahoma Guntown, Salem, and other engagements.

In the month of July, 1864, a large portion of the Regiment re-enlisted as Veterans. The non-Veterans, in command of Major O'Connor, were placed in charge of the garrison at Germantown. Captain Carnahan commanded a detachment of the Regiment in a scout into Western Kentucky during the month.

On the 21st of August, 1864, a large number of the Regiment, whose term of service had expired, embarked on transports for their homes in Illinois, which most of the enlisted men had not seen for three years, accompanied by Colonel Mc'Rellis and Lieutenant Colonel Ruggles, the latter having never been absent from the army since he entered the Regiment. Arriving at their old camp, near Springfield, they were mustered out of service on the 5th of September, 1864, many of them disabled by the casualties of war and the ravages of disease.

The Veterans remaining took part in the repulse of General N. B. Forrest in his daring raid on Memphis, on the night of the 21st of August.

August 21 the Veterans were consolidated into six companies, and Captain Carnahan promoted to Lieutenant Colonel.

On the 27th of September the Regiment, as re-organized, left Memphis; marched to and crossed the Tennessee River at Clifton, where it confronted Hood's Army. Then it fell back, and took part in the battles of Lawrenceburg, Spring Hill, Campbellsville and Franklin.

On the 15th of December the Regiment was on the extreme right of the First Brigade, Fifth Division, under command of Brigadier General Hatch, when the enemy's left was turned, and was the first to enter the enemy's works.

In January, 1865, the enemy having been driven across the Tennessee, the cavalry, under General Wilson, camped at Gravelly Springs, Alabama, and in February moved to Eastport.

In May, 1865, the Regiment returned to St. Louis, and from thence went to St. Paul, Minnesota, reporting for duty to Major General Curtis. On the 4th of July started on an Indian expedition over the plains of Minnesota and Dakota, going north to the British possessions, and from thence returning by way of Devil's Lake and Fort Tentholt; thence to Fort Snelling, arriving on the 1st of October, and reaching Springfield, Illinois, on the 15th of October, 1865, where it was mustered out of service—the last act in the drama of the Third Cavalry.

As will be seen, the Third Illinois Cavalry, during the fifty months of its service, did some quarreling, some fighting, some raiding and scouting, some ornamental work around headquarters,—possibly too much of that,—and it marched more thousands of miles than any one can tell. Some of the boys may have plucked ripe chickens from rebel roosts, and they may have been in at the untimely death of some of the rebel pigs,—and they may have done other things not necessary to be mentioned in history,—but in the aggregate of all that was done and accomplished by this military organization, by both officers and men, it may be said in all candor that as a body of patriotic men, as soldiers and citizens, they are deserving well of the State and the Nation.

HISTORY OF FOURTH CAVALRY.

August, 1861, Judge T. Lyle Dickey, of Ottawa, LaSalle county, was authorized by the Secretary of War to raise and organize a regiment of cavalry.

Some time afterwards, but before the Regiment was complete, a controversy arose between the Secretary of War and Governor Yates, in the settlement of which it was conceded that the Governor should commission the officers selected by Dickey, and the organization went upon the record as the Fourth Illinois Cavalry.

On the 20th day of September, 1861, the Regiment was mustered into the U. S. military service and soon after took up its line of march for Springfield where it received its arms, which were not removed from their cases, however, until the command arrived at Cairo.

Upon the arrival of the Regiment at Cairo, it went into camp upon the highest ground that could be found where an immense amount of labor was done by the command in the way of log rolling and clearing before a decent camp could be arranged.

Very shortly after getting settled Company C, commanded by Captain Chas. Townsend was detached and sent to Big Muddy as a bridge guard, and Company A, commanded by Captain E. D. Osband, was detached to serve as escort to General U. S. Grant, in whose service it continued until August, 1863.

In December, 1861, when the reconnoissance of Columbus was ordered, the Fourth Illinois Cavalry, having been assigned to General McClelland's Division, moved with the rest of the army and became the advance body where it kept its place during the entire movement.

At the little village of Milburn, a short distance east of Columbus, Company H was selected to carry dispatches across the country to Mayfield, where it was supposed General C. F. Smith would be found, who had left Paducah at the time that General Grant had left Cairo. General Smith was found encamped a short distance from Mayfield, with whose force the Company camped until the next morning, and with which it moved back as far as the town. Company H then took up its line of march for the Headquarters of General McClelland.

Upon the return of the army to Cairo the Regiment went back to its old quarters, where it remained until the order for a movement upon Fort Henry, when it was loaded on steamers and went as far as Parsons' Ferry, on the Tennessee River, and from thence by land to Panther Island, just below Fort Henry.

Early on the morning succeeding the arrival of the army below Fort Henry the Fourth was ordered to take the advance of General McClelland's Division and drive in the rebel pickets, which proved to be a light affair. Following them over the outer works, we were immediately followed by Colonel Oglesby's brigade of infantry, which took possession of the forts and a few prisoners, while we pursued the retreating rebels toward Fort Donelson, meeting with our first loss in the death of a private of Company I.

A few days afterward Colonel Dickey made a reconnoissance, with a part of the Regiment, of Fort Donelson, capturing a picket of about a dozen men. The Regiment moved in advance of General Grant's army upon Fort Donelson, and under General McClelland's command was engaged in that affair of snow and sunshine, rain and sleet.

Immediately following the surrender of Fort Donelson it moved out to Randolph Forges and encamped in and on the property of the Hon. John Bell & Co., one of the largest iron companies of Tennessee, where it remained until ordered back to the Tennessee River, opposite the mouth of the Sandy, where it encamped on the farm of a Major Grey, who had fought under Jackson at New Orleans.

It was loaded on steamers and started for Pittsburg Landing, stopping a short time at Savannah, and arrived in good time at the lower landing of Pittsburg, where it was disembarked and went into camp on the bluff just back of the graves of some rebels who had been killed by a part of the Thirty-second Illinois Infantry, which had been sent up the river as scouts a short time before.

At Pittsburg Landing it was removed from Gen. McClernand's Division and assigned to a brigade commanded by Brigadier General Louman, except Companies B, C and D, which were assigned to General Hurlbut's command, with which they remained until the week before the battle of the 6th and 7th of April, when Companies E, F, G, H, I, K, L and M were assigned to General Sherman and were moved out to the extreme front on Saturday and went into camp on the left of the old church near the Fifty-third Ohio Infantry.

On the morning of the 6th, while eating breakfast, under quite a shower of bullets, the Regiment was ordered to mount at once and report to General Sherman.

Major M. R. M. Wallace, who was sick at the time, was ordered to proceed to the rear with such of the company and garrison equipage as could be loaded, and the writer, commanding Company H. was ordered to take command of the Second Battalion, consisting of E, F, G and H, which he retained until the close of the engagement.

After the battle of Pittsburg Landing,—or, more properly, Shiloh,—the Fourth was kept pretty constantly at work scouting the front, and led the van in a raid upon Purdy and the railroad, capturing a train, destroying a considerable amount of track and several bridges.

When the army commenced its movement upon Corinth, after the arrival of General Halleck, that portion of the Regiment under Sherman took the advance upon the right, and continued to work day and night, until the explosion of ammunition in Corinth convinced General Halleck that Beauregard had succeeded in withdrawing his entire army from the place.

After entering Corinth, still in front of Sherman, the Regiment was slowly sent towards the west, finally reaching Memphis in August, 1862, from which place it was moved in September to Trenton, on the line of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, where it remained, scouting in every direction, until the movement down the line of that road and the Mississippi Central began, when, under Colonel Lee, of the Seventh Kansas, commanding a Brigade of Cavalry, it struck Vandorn and Price near Holly Springs, and followed them to near Coffeeville, where it lost Lieutenant Colonel McCullough in a night fight, and fell back to Water Valley, and with the withdrawal of General Grant back to the line of the Memphis and Charleston road, Moscow and Collierville.

From Moscow the writer, with Companies C, E, G and F, was sent to Bolivar, with orders to report to Brigadier General Brayman, who was in command at that point, and at the time of our arrival was obtaining forage by sending out a regiment of infantry and two pieces of artillery as a protection to his trains.

After staying at Bolivar about three weeks, the Regiment returned to its headquarters, then stationed at Collierville, where it remained until August, 1863, when it was ordered to Vicksburg, where the Regiment was united, and remained until the expiration of its term of service.

After staying a few days at Vicksburg, the Regiment was sent to the Black River, and was brigaded with the Fifth Iowa Cavalry and Tenth Missouri, with Colonel Winslow for Brigade Commander.

From Vicksburg the Regiment was sent to Natchez, in the winter of 1863-4, and kept busy scouring the country on both sides of the river, for wandering bands of the enemy generally, commanded by Colonel B. G. Farrar.

In the latter part of October, 1864, we received an order covering that part of the Regiment that had not re-enlisted under the order for Veterans, to proceed to Springfield, Ill., to be mustered out of service.

When we left Cairo in February, 1862, we had about 1,100 men. When we came back to that point in 1864, we had 340, who were mustered out at Springfield, November, 1864.

ORDER OF CONSOLIDATION.

HEADQUARTERS CAVALRY DIVISION, DISTRICT OF WEST TENNESSEE.

MEMPHIS, TENN., May 22, 1865.

Brigadier General W. D. WHIPPLE,

Assistant Adjutant General, Army of the Cumberland:

General: I have the honor to inclose the Twelfth and Fourth Illinois Volunteer Cavalry organizations, asking your attention to the fact that the consolidation of these Regiments, by a singular coincidence, will constitute one regiment, with almost its exact maximum.

I therefore request that the Commanding General of the Department will issue an order for its consolidation, under the title of the Twelfth Illinois Regiment Volunteer Cavalry.

Hasbrouck Davis	Colonel
Hamilton B. Dox.....	Lieutenant Colonel
A. F. Search.....	Senior Major.....
A. H. Langholz.....	Second Major.....
William Goodrich	First Assistant Surgeon.....
R. J. Foster.....	Second Assistant Surgeon.....
William Crooks.....	Adjutant
John W. Hitt.....	Quartermaster
Company A, 4th Illinois Cavalry, to be designated company G, 12th Illinois Cavalry.
“ B, 4th “ “ “ “ “ I, 12th “
“ C, 4th “ “ “ “ “ K, 12th “
“ D, 4th “ “ “ “ “ L, 12th “
“ E, 4th “ “ “ “ “ M, 12th “

As the two regiments, as organized, would make thirteen companies, I recommend the breaking up of Company G, Twelfth Illinois Cavalry, and the enlisted men to be transferred to other companies, and that Captain R. A. Howk and First Lieutenant

C. T. Gossett, be mustered out of service. I ask to have Second Lieutenant E. M. Reynolds, of this company, and Adjutant Henry M. Stahl, of the Twelfth Illinois Cavalry, assigned to vacancies.

This consolidation will sum up forty-five (45) commissioned officers and twelve hundred and forty-two (1,242) enlisted men. Discharges to be made under the order to muster-out sick in general hospital, will bring it within the lawful maximum.

I am, General, very respectfully your ob'd't serv't.

B. S. ROBERTS,

Brig. Gen. Vol's. Commanding.

(Indorsement.)

NEW ORLEANS, LA., June 21, 1865.

HISTORY OF FIFTH CAVALRY.

The Fifth Cavalry was organized at Camp Butler, in November, 1861, and Hall Wilson appointed Colonel.

On February 20, 1862, moved to Benton Barracks, St. Louis, Mo. March 3, moved to Pilot Knob. On 27th, marched to Doniphan, and, arriving April 1, had a skirmish with the enemy, capturing their camp, killing 3 and taking 7 prisoners. On April 17, marched to Pocahontas. On 27th June, started on the march for the Mississippi River. Arrived at Jacksonport, on 29th, and joined General Curtis' Army, and arrived at Helena, July 13.

On October 22, a forage train was attacked by the enemy, and Lieutenant Elliot, and 18 men, of the Fifth Cavalry, captured, after losing 1 killed and 6 wounded. On January 11, 1863, the Regiment made an expedition to Duvall's Bluff, and, in April, pursued Marmaduke, who was retreating from Missouri.

May 20, 1863, embarked for Vicksburg, and, June 1, landed at Snyder's Bluff. June 3, made a reconnoissance to Mechanicsburg, drove the enemy 10 miles, skirmishing heavily. June 4, forming a junction with Brigadier General Kimball, who had 2 Regiments Infantry and 8 pieces of artillery, they attacked the enemy, who was strongly posted, and defeated him. The Regiment lost 1 killed and 7 wounded.

On 6th of July, 1863, moved, with General Sherman's Army, Ninth and Fifteenth Corps, toward Jackson. On the 11th, the Cavalry Brigade, Third and Fourth Iowa, Second Wisconsin, and Fifth Illinois Cavalry, Colonel Bussey, of Third Iowa, commanding, went on an expedition to Canton, Miss., arriving after some fighting, on the 17th, and, after destroying the public work shops, railroads, etc., returned to the main army at Jackson.

On August 3, with Third and Fourth Iowa Cavalry, Colonel E. F. Winslow commanding the Fifth Cavalry went on an expedition to Grenada, Miss. Reached the Mississippi Central, at Durant, and, capturing wagon trains and destroying bridges, etc., it moved up the railroad, to Grenada where it arrived August 17, and, driving the enemy, under Chalmers, from town, effected a junction with Lieutenant Colonel Phelps' command.

The bridge over the Yallobusha being destroyed, the captured rolling stock could not be saved, and 40 engines and 320 cars were burned. On 19th, moved toward Memphis. On 21st, encountered Blythe's rebel cavalry, at the Coldwater, and defeated them—the Regiment losing 1 killed and 5 wounded. Arrived at Memphis on the 22d.

Embarked for Vicksburg, and camped at Black River, August 29. Remained until May 1, 1864, when the Regiment moved to Vicksburg. On October 16, 1863, the Regiment moved, with General McPherson's Seventeenth Corps, to Jackson. Took part in a cavalry charge at Brownsville routing the rebel General Wirt Adams, and driving him from his position. The Regiment lost 2 wounded and 1 prisoner.

January 1, 1864, many of the Regiment's re-enlisted as veterans. On February 3, moved with General Sherman's command, on the Meridian raid. March 17, the veterans were furloughed, returning to the command May 10.

On May 27, Colonel John McConnell arrived, was mustered, and took command of the Regiment.

At this time, 8 companies were dismounted. Companies A, B, C and D, were fully mounted and equipped. On July 1, this Battalion, with detachments of the Eleventh Illinois Cavalry, Second Wisconsin Cavalry, and Third United States Colored Cavalry, Major Mumford, of Fifth Illinois Cavalry, commanding, with a Brigade of Infantry, Brigadier General Dennis commanding the expedition, moved to Jackson, with continual skirmishing. On July 5, on the return march, it was attacked by a large force of the enemy, who was repulsed, after severe fighting. The Battalion lost 1 man killed, and Lieutenant March, and several men, wounded.

On September 27, with same cavalry, Colonel Osband, Third United States Colored Cavalry, commanding, moved down the river, landing at Port Gibson, and drove the enemy from the place, the Fifth losing 1 man killed. Thence, moved to Natchez; was joined by the Fourth Illinois Cavalry and a battery, and moved to Tonica Bend. Landed, and moved to Woodville. Surprised and captured a rebel camp. During the night, the enemy advanced, with 3 guns and 600 men. The Fifth Cavalry, and Third United States Cavalry, under Colonel McConnell, charged the enemy the next morning, driving him in confusion. Returned to Vicksburg, October 11.

On November 20, went with an expedition to destroy the Mississippi Central Railroad, over which supplies were being sent to Hood. It was successful, the command destroying many miles of railroad.

On January 24, 1865, the Regiment moved to Memphis. Was assigned to First Brigade, Cavalry Division, Colonel E. D. Osband, Third United States Colored Cavalry, commanding. Went on an expedition to Southern Arkansas and Northern Louisiana—returning February 13.

On March 3, moved with an expedition, to Ripley, Miss., and having returned, March 11, was assigned to guard duty on Memphis and Charleston Railroad.

July 1, moved to Texas, via Red River, arriving at Alexandria, La., July 13, 1865. Regiment was assigned to First Brigade, Brigadier General Forsythe commanding; Second Division, Major General Custer commanding. Marched, on August 12, and arrived at Hempstead, Tex., August 26. Remained at this post until October 6, when moved for Springfield, Ill., arriving on 16.

Mustered out October 27, 1865, and received final payment and discharge, October 30, 1865.
